DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3-4 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 3, it is unclear what is meant by "a part of plural conductors connecting the primary windings and the AC power supply through or turns around the hollow". There is grammatical issue in this sentence. What is "Through or turns around"?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 5-9 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hitachi medical corporation (JP5-307998).

Regarding claims 1, 5-9 and 13, Hitachi medical corporation teaches an X-ray generating device comprising:

a high voltage transformer for boosting an AC power voltage including a plurality of primary windings (4a) connected in parallel to an AC power supply, at least one iron core, and a plurality of secondary windings (4b) respectively corresponding to the primary windings;

a plurality of high voltage rectifier circuits (7) which are connected to outputs of the plurality of secondary windings of the high voltage transformer and converts the outputs into DC outputs, connects the DC in series, and grounds the midpoints of the series connection at a neutral point; and

and an X-ray tube (12) receiving a predetermined tube voltage through a cathode and an anode thereof, respectively connected to a DC output negative terminal and a DC output positive terminal on both ends of the plurality of high voltage rectifier circuits, wherein a waveform phase difference removing is provided to remove a difference in wave and phase occurring between plural currents respectively flowing through the plural windings and to remove an unbalanced voltage (paragraph 007) wherein the waveform phase difference removing means has a hollowed core made of a ferromagnetic material of large permeability (figure 7).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10-12, 16-18 and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding claims 10-12, 16-18 and 20, the prior art fail to teach waveform phase difference removing means which lowers the predetermined ratio to be smaller than 1 and removes differences in waveform and phase generated between the plural currents respectively flowing through the plurality of primary windings; and current addition means formed by commonly winding two or more conductors among the plural conductors respectively connecting the plurality of primary windings and the AC power supply around the ferromagnetic core having a large permeability, wherein the ratio between the plural current values is kept at a predetermined ratio by the waveform phase difference removing means and the current addition means as claimed in claim 10.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-9, 13 and 19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
